SEPTEMBER 2018

Rally Day – September 9

Rally Day is Sunday, September 9! Our regular worship schedule resumes that morning with worship at 8:30 and 11:00 am and Sunday School classes for all ages at 9:45. Please plan to join us as we start another great year of life here at Reformation!

Blessing of the Backpacks

Bring your backpacks to worship on September 9 for a special blessing as we celebrate the start of another school year and God's blessings in our lives every day!

Installation of Bishop Davenport

All are invited to celebrate the installation of the Rev. Patricia A. Davenport as Bishop of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Synod on Saturday, September 22, at 2 pm at New Covenant Church of Philadelphia, 7500 Germantown Avenue. A reception will immediately follow.

If you plan to attend, and if you would be willing to drive or if you are in need of ride please make your intentions and requests known. Directions to the installation and a sign-up sheet for ride sharing from Reformation are on the counter in the Lobby.

FAITH BUILDERS

What It Means To Be Christian

Embracing An Adult Faith - 9:45 am in Creighton Hall. Starting Sunday, September 16, this new five-session video-based study features Marcus Borg, best-selling author and theologian, gathering with a small group of adults to teach and model faith talk. Weekly participants explore a new question: Who was Jesus? Who is God? What is salvation? How do we practice faith? How do we live in community? Together, class participants will watch, listen, discuss, pray and take a quiet moment for life application. If you are seeking a richer understanding of Christian practice come for one or all five weeks. If you are searching for ways to talk about faith, join us.

Women's Connection

All women are warmly invited to join us on Sundays starting on September 9. During our time together we share devotions and/or readings and discuss how our faith sustains and inspires us in the journeys of our lives. We meet in the Women's Connection Room (between the Library and the R.O.C.K. Room) during Sunday School time. This adult education option is uniquely for women. If it sounds like a fit for you, please join us!

Art in the Heart of Worship

Faith engagement takes many forms. Inspired by Stik the Street artist in June, the works of Vincent van Gogh in July, and Mayan Weavers Fair Trade artisans in August, Art in the Heart of Worship was energizing, colorful, and meaningful for the young and young at heart. Thank you for taking the risk and trying something new. Thank you for celebrating serendipity and the collective outcomes each month. If you would like to be involved with the Summer 2019 Art in the Heart of Worship planning team, see Deacon Beth.

God's Work, Our Hands

The sixth annual God's Work, Our Hands Sunday will take place Sunday, September 23 from 11 am to 3 pm. Non-perishable food items will be collected that day at church and at Trader Joe's in Media for Chester Eastside Ministries and Media Food Pantry as well as throughout September. How can you help? Volunteers are needed for one hour shifts to help set up between 10 and 11 am, hand out flyers, receive, sort, and transport food items on Sunday between 11 am and 3 pm, and to help clean up from 3 to 4 pm. We continue our service on Monday at 9 am meeting at Reformation to complete food deliveries. Sign up in the Lobby or contact Kathy Ewens at kewens607@gmail.com or 610-581-7121 or see any member of the staff.

Pray for our Pilgrims

September 13-23, a group from Reformation, both family and friends, will embark on a new adventure – a pilgrimage walk on the El Camino de Santiago in Spain. While most walk this trail for religious reasons, others walk it as a physical challenge or as a travel adventure. This historical trail has existed for over 1,000 years, has many routes, symbolized by a scallop shell, but all routes lead to Santiago de Compostela, a cathedral where the remains of the apostle St. James are believed to have been buried. Unlike many who walk the entire five hundred miles for a month like Sue Bianco's son, Bill, the Reformation "pilgrims" will walk 75 miles in six days. Please keep the following individuals in your thoughts and prayers as they meet the physical challenges and grow their faith: Linda Bucher, Ron Brzowski, Bob Burke, Pat Burke, Ryan Burke, John Chesters, Dave Chorney, Karen Chorney, Kristen Chorney, Diane Davis, Jonna Davis, Bob Hughes, Connie Richardson, and Jeannie Robertson.

Pitch Horseshoes

The Men's Breakfast group invites all Reformation men to our Saturday, September 8, Horseshoe Tournament. Come on out and pitch horseshoes with Wild Bill Grauer, Cowboy Bubba Black and Flapjack Joe at the OK Corral behind the Church. Coffee Hour and Fellowship begin at 8:30 am with breakfast served by 9:00 and we are out throwin' ringers by 9:30.

At its heart, bega kwa bega, affirms the joint ministry between numerous communities of faith in the ELCA and ELCT whose purpose is to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ, extend Christian hospitality, and strengthen relationship with one another through the shared practices of prayer, presence, and partnerships.

All are invited to celebrate our Pangani and NE Diocese partnership on September 25. We are honored to host a "Meet and Greet" with Bishop Munga from 6:30 to 7:30 pm in the Reformation Lobby followed by Holden Evening Prayer at 7:30 pm. Join us as we bega kwa bega. Come one, come all!

Music Together at Reformation

Music Together® is an internationally recognized early childhood music program for babies, toddlers, preschoolers, kindergartners, and the adults who love them. A Music Together® Family Class will be offered at Reformation this fall by Tempo! Music Therapy Services and will be led by our own Kara Fontes. The classes start September 27 and continue for 10 weeks on Thursdays, 4:30-5:15, in the Choir Room.

Tuition for 10 weeks is $195 and includes a CD and digital download of the session's songs, a coordinating songbook, and access to the Family Music Zone online portal. Register at tempotherapy.com/register/pa-musictogether/. For more information, see Kara Fontes.

Music Together® was first offered to the public in 1987. It pioneered the concept of a research-based, developmentally appropriate early childhood music curriculum that strongly emphasizes and facilitates adult involvement. Music Together® classes are based on the recognition that all children are musical. All children can learn to sing in tune, keep a beat, and participate with confidence in the music of our culture, provided that their early environment supports such learning.

Get serious about Lyme disease!

Did you know Lyme disease is increasing right in our area? This disease is transmitted by the black legged tick, commonly known as the deer tick. This tick bites rodents carrying the bacteria Borrelia Burgdorfer or Mayonii, and then attaches itself to the white-tailed deer. They are dropped or brushed off the deer into long grasses, weeds, or leaves and brush. They easily attach to human and dog hair or skin. You are at risk when you spend time in grassy or wooded areas.

You may not get Lyme disease every time you are bit by a tick but try to save the tick and show it to a medical person. Watch for these symptoms:

- *A small red bump occurs after a bite, which resolves in a few days. This happens after any insect bite and may not lead to Lyme disease.
- *In 3 to 30 days a red rash might appear that sometimes has a clear spot in the middle, it may be circular and can expand up to 12 inches across, looking similar to a bull's eye. This rash is not usually itchy or painful. Go to a doctor as soon as you see this rash.
- *Next the victim develops flu like symptoms: fever, chills, fatigue, body aches and headaches. Get to your doctor. Early treatment avoids complications.
- *After a few weeks the rash may expand or disappear, but joints become painful and swollen. Also an inflammation of the membranes around your brain may occur with temporary paralysis of facial muscles or numbness or weakness in your limbs. All of this can lead to serious heart, liver or eye problems. If you think you have been bitten or have any of these symptoms get medical help immediately.

What can you do? Avoid areas where ticks live: woods, brush or long grassy areas. Cover up if you must work or walk in these areas. Shoes, socks, long pants, long sleeves, are recommended. Stick to trails and leash pets. Use insect repellent with 20% DEET, or add permethrin to clothes or buy permethrin treated clothes. Always check yourself for ticks. Ticks can remain on your skin without attaching for hours. Shower and rub yourself with a wash cloth after exposure. When you find a tick remove it immediately. They can be as small as a pin head or up to an eighth of an inch. Bacteria is usually not transferred unless the tick is attached for 36 to 48 hours. Don't assume after having Lyme disease that you have immunity to this disease. You can get it over and over! There are 7 other diseases caused by ticks. Practice prevention all the time.

Do You Know Your Books?

Test Your Book

Knowledge for a chance to Win a $25 Amazon Gift Card. The Library Committee is sponsoring a special contest during the month of September! The winner will win a $25 Amazon gift card. Starting August 29, the Library Bulletin Board will feature a group of paired books. Your challenge is to correctly identify the connection between each numbered pair. If you don't know by looking at them, you can find the answers by using the online catalog or by looking at the actual books in our library. When you know the answers, fill out the entry form near the bulletin board and submit your completed form at the church office by September 30. The winner will be contacted in early October. If there is more than one correct entry, the Library Committee will draw a winner from among the correct entries. Good luck!

FROM THE DEACON

Pilgrim – Be, Receive, Give Thanks

Growing up in Northern Wisconsin, Labor Day weekend marked a time of transition. Summer cabins were swept and sealed until the next season, canvas was draped across boats for winter storage, and as a family, we often took that one last long walk before driving home. Once more before ‘piling in the car,’ we soaked our feet in the water, listened for gentle sounding birds, even the wind rustling through the tall grass. We took one last deep breath as if attempting to bottle up all the sights, sounds, and smells until next time.

Time was marked. Actions were intentional. And from such, at a very early age, my brother, sister and I were taught three simple tenets for life – be, receive, give thanks. These four words became stepping stones, a foundational mantra, a pattern for my daily life. They assist in my faith walk. They remind me to be intentional about Sunday worship, Sabbath time, and rest. They inform me to pause, to receive and slow down, to acknowledge God as creator of all, and to offer thanks even for the very breath I get to breathe.

Phil Cousineau, in his book The Art of Pilgrimage: The Seeker's Guide to Making Travel Sacred, writes, “With a deepening focus, keen preparation, attention to the path below our feet, and respect of the destination at hand, it is possible to transform even the most ordinary trip into a sacred journey, a pilgrimage. Contemplative walks transform the ground beneath us into holy ground whether we are on the Appian Way outside Rome, the town next door, or the parking lot outside our office building. The preparation for pilgrimage requires that we begin at home to watch, and listen more attentively, despite being bombarded by everyday life.” (p.105 Conari Press)

As you journey back this September, as you walk back into the rush of routines associated with the school year, back to the patterns of work life, back to the next thing that has to get done, back to days of earlier sunsets and longer nights, back to... (you fill in the blank) consider the mantra: be, receive, and give thanks.

Come and be, receive and give thanks each week at 8:30 and 11:00 am worship. Come and be engaged in faith talk with family and make new connections during the 9:45 am education hour. Come and give thanks in prayer and through servant action throughout the month.

Be. Receive. Give Thanks!

Peace,
Deacon Beth

Voices of Lutheranism: Chorales to Alabados

Situated within the wider narrative of Christian worship, the story of Lutheran music begins with Martin Luther's own gifts as a lutenist and composer. Unlike Calvin and Zwingli, who appreciated music but distrusted its emotional appeal, Luther did not want to restrict ways in which God's gifts of language and music were used in worship. In a passage that recalls the parade of voices and instruments in Psalm 150, Luther wrote that praise should "sound forth with joy" from "organs, symphonias, virginals, regals, and whatever other beloved instruments there are."

Luther also knew that his fellow citizens would not be reading the scholarly documents explaining his disagreements with the Roman church. Along with his German translation of the Bible and catechisms, he wrote chorales that sought to praise and teach, placing the Word directly on the lips of the people in their own language and syntax. Aided by the expansion of printing technology, generations of authors and composers followed suit. The rhymed stanzas, catchy tunes, and dance-inspired rhythms of these chorales were not matters of happenstance but artfully combined to achieve maximum "memory" effect. (Think back: how did you learn your ABCs? By singing!) And like earlier plainchants, texts and melodies of these chorales served as building blocks for new compositions.

Luther instinctively understood the value of teamwork and cultivated partnerships with musical colleagues, inaugurating a rich tradition of collaboration between musically minded theologians (pastors) and theologically minded musicians (cantors). With Philipp Melancthon, he established an educational model in which pastors and cantors were trained together in subjects such as grammar, rhetoric, and music. Many composers upheld as exemplars of Lutheran baroque music were products of this environment: Schütz, Praetorius, and the Bach family, to name a few.

The conditions that allowed Lutheran music to develop as it first did changed in the eighteenth century as Enlightenment ideals confronted the once-unchallenged authority of churches. As monarchies gave way to republics and democracies, composers moved from churches and courts toward concert halls. The nineteenth century saw the establishment of many civic choirs and orchestras, groups for which Mendelssohn and Brahms composed music that incorporated Lutheran chorales.

In the United States, voices of Lutheran immigrants blended with musical strands from other European denominations that had established colonial roots. The nineteenth century witnessed a constant process of intersection, recovery, and revision, allowing Anglican hymns, American shape note songs, African American spirituals, Roman plainchant, and chorales to mix freely across the frontier. Increasing ecumenical and global outlooks in the twentieth century only deepened the well of assembly song, adding familiar names like Taizé, Iona, and Hillsong to genres such as the Japanese gagaku and Mexican alabados—an abundance that Luther could hardly have imagined. Though physical materials have changed, Lutherans continue to mark days and seasons of the church year with songs from sisters and brothers of many times and places that praise, teach, pray, and bear us along our baptismal journey. Like Paul, we acclaim: Thanks be to God for this indescribable gift!
