"I will go to Egypt," said Moses. Moses knew that God would be with him. Moses trusted God.

"I can't do it," said Moses. "I don't speak very well. Send someone else." But God said, "Don't worry; your brother Aaron will help you. Don't worry; I will be with you."

One day Moses was watching over his sheep and goats. Suddenly, Moses saw a bush that was on fire! But the leaves of the bush stayed green! The fire was not burning the bush.

"Moses," said God, "take off your shoes." Moses sat down beside the bush and took off his shoes. He knew he was standing on holy ground.

Moses heard a voice calling from the fire! It was the voice of God. God said, "Moses, Moses!" And Moses answered, "Here I am, Lord."

"Moses, I want you to talk to the king of Egypt," said God. "I want you to tell the king to let my people leave Egypt."

Bible Story

Moses and the Burning Bush (Exodus 3:1-20)

Before Moses led the people of Israel out of Egypt, before he was a shepherd in the desert. He didn't think of himself as a person who would do amazing things with God. One day he was with his sheep, and he saw an incredible sight: there was a bush that was in flames, but wasn't burning up! When Moses went to check it out, God called to him from the bush and told Moses to take off his sandals because he was standing on holy ground. God told Moses that Moses was going to help lead God's people, the Israelites, out of slavery in Egypt. That was a surprise to Moses! Moses didn't understand. He wasn't a leader! He wasn't even a good speaker. But God said not to worry. "I'll be with you," God told Moses. God trusted Moses to deliver the Israelites out of Egypt, and Moses trusted God to be with him.
